

ELVA .. The Cars, The People, The History

Once a dream ... now a reality!

The ELVA book has been published and it is SUPERB!

Those with extremely long memories will know that I spent much time with Frank Nichols and many other talented, interesting, enthusiastic and colourful Elva people, devoting much time recording their stories and recollections involving the production of Elva cars.

A hugely complex story unfolded, so much of which happened in the States and Jeff Allison contributed greatly to researching the history of Elva in that great market place.

However, progress was slow and eventually faltered, but thanks to the wonderful support of a long-time Elva owner and true enthusiast, the much respected professional author Janos Wimpffen was asked to complete the loop and coupled with the expertise at David Bull Publishing, the resulting book is absolutely magnificent.

Janos has done a wonderful job way beyond that madcap dream of some twenty years ago. So do please take a look at the details which appear on the David Bull website and be sure to order your copy.

You can pre-order the book at David Bull Publishing

A specially prepared Publisher's Edition of Elva will also be available. Limited to only 150 numbered copies it includes 36 additional pages featuring Elva's brochures and advertisements - from the company's earliest years in the mid 1950's through to the McLaren-Elva series of the late 1960s.

The Publisher's Edition will be signed by Sir Stirling Moss as well as Elva drivers Chuck Dietrich, Augie Pabst, and Bill Wuesthoff; and vintage Elva stalwarts Roger Dunbar and Bruce McCaw. For details on the pricing of the Publisher's Edition please contact David Bull Publishing by calling 602-852-9500, or via e-mail at info@bullpublishing.com.

You can read about the book on the Elva website, where you can also read the full press release.

I would suggest you order a new strong coffee table too as the book is massive! Enjoy!

With sincere best wishes ... Roger A. Dunbar
